Service Schedule

May 4: The Hydrogen Economy for Energy with Ruth Young – a graduate from Cornell University; a retired high school teacher in biology and chemistry. The concern with “Renewable Energy” such as wind and solar is that most people do not see how such intermittent forms of energy can be brought into the real world as efficient forms of power. In order to save Planet Earth from extreme trauma because of climate disruptions, we must make the change from fossil fuels to a non-carbon energy system starting yesterday. The connections with which to do this are available now and have been since the beginning of the space-age. ~ Service Leader: Jackie Wilson

May 11: Honoring the Earth Mother: Wishing Well for Water with Uncle Eddie and Robin, a musical singer-songwriter husband & wife duet. They have been described as a dynamic musical duet with a taste of the old and a flair for the new. This husband-wife team combines their voices in stunning tight harmonies with songs that pack a punch. Their musical chemistry is undeniable and their sound unmistakable. With a political consciousness and a knack for incorporating new styles, they are the perfect combo of old and new West Virginia music. ~ Service Leader: Leslie Potter

May 18: Rev. Darcey Laine joins us...

May 25: What's Heaven For? ~ Welcome back Homer Wilkins, retired UU minister. Since most UUs do not believe in heaven as a place to which we go after we die (if we're 'good'), we are apt to abandon the idea completely. However, as the embodiment of one's views of ideal existence to which one aspires, it has value. If you had your druthers, what would the world be like? The topic will be related to the adopted principles of UUA. ~ Service Leader: Jeni Paquette

Simply: Remember to turn in your yearly pledges! The Fellowship thanks you!

~ Carolyn
